THE QUESTIONNAIRE

THE NEW BOOK OF REVELATIONS AND A VERY INTERESTING DOCUMENT

Callers at the headquarters of the Exemption Board in the Chamber of Commerce found Mr. F. D. Lanterman buried in the work of preparing statistics for the Provost Marshal General at Washington, based on the previous work of the Board. These he expected to complete by Wednesday so that after that date attention could be concentrated upon the "Questionnaire," which beginning December 15th, will be sent out in daily installments of 100 for 20 days. The registration of our district is 1935, and they will run consecutively, from one to 100. Mr. Lanterman said:

"They will go to all men on the regular draft list except those who are in actual service at camps. Registrants will have seven days in which to reply. We expect to have somebody at the board rooms every night to answer questions in regard to registration.

"The Council of Defsense has appointed a number of attorneys who are to make it their business to aid anybody that wants help. Somebody is expected to be here to help the registrants continuously, but he will not be a member of the board. I do not know who has been appointed to do this work here.

"The Questionnaire makes five classifications, and under each there are from six to 12 divisions. Every registrant will be classified and listed in one of the divisions of these classes.

A. Officers—legislative, executive or judicial of the United States, or of State, Territory or District of Columbia.

B. Regular or duly ordained ministers of religion.

C. Student who on May 18, 1917, was preparing for ministry in recognized school.

D. Persons in military or naval service of United States.

E. Alien enemy.

F. Resident alien (not an enemy) who claims exemption.

G. Persons totally and permanently physically or mentally unfit for military service.

H. Person morally unfit to be a soldier of the United States.

The Questionnaire is interesting reading. It is clearly a document which must be obeyed, which cannot be evaded or trifled with. For instance, in the preliminary "Notice to Registrants," etc.. it states: "Failure by any registrant to perform any duty prescribed by the Selective Service Law, or by these Rules and Regulations, at or within the time required, is a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment for one year, and may result in the loss of valuable

MRS. HALL'S FUNERAL

Funeral services were held this afternoon at the chapel at Forest Lawn cemetery in charge of Scovern, Letton, Frey, for Mrs. Frank Hall, whose tragic death occurred on Friday at the Glendale Sanitarium following an accident on Thanksgiving day, in which she was thrown from her horse and fatally injured. Mrs. Hall, whose home had been in Sunland for a time, had come to Glendale with her two children about November 12, and had taken a house at 811 South Brand where she had expected to make her home permanently. She had lived in Little Lands for a short time previous to coming to Glendale, having moved here to be near intimate friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Redmonds, who came here recently from Pittsburgh and have made their home at 127 North Brand boulevard. On Thursday Mrs. Hall and Mr. Redmond were preparing to start out for a horse back ride. Mr. Redmond had assisted Mrs. Hall to mount and had turned aside to his own horse when her horse suddenly threw her, striking her head in some unaccountable way. Doctors were immediately called and first aid in so far as was possible was given at the Redmond home until the injured woman could be rushed to the Glendale Sanitarium. Her death came about 6 o'clock on Friday morning. The sister of the deceased, Miss Katherine Shinkle, arrived from Pittsburgh on Monday evening. Interment will be in a vault at Forest Lawn for the present. Besides the sister, Mrs. Hall left a mother, Mrs. Kate Shinkle, of Pittsburgh, and two children, Katherine, eleven years old and Oliver Hardin, four and a half, who are now with Mr. and Mrs. Redmond. Rev. Vernon H. Cowsert, minister of the Baptist church, officiated at the services.

GOVERNMENT TO CONTROL TRANSPORTATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, December 5.—Government control of the operation of the railroads of the United States during the war was recommended in a special report to Congress by the Interstate Commerce Commission made public today. The commission regards such a step as the only solution of the freight congestion of the country and the railroad crisis. After reciting conditions the report says:

"The alternative is the operation as a unit by the president, during the period of the war, as a war measure, vested in him by the constitution and powers formally conferred upon him by Congress."

Almost simultaneously with the recommendation of the Commerce Commission Representative Sabath of Illinois introduced a resolution authorizing the Commission to take over all railroads and coal mines in the United States for the duration of the war.

GOES TO CAMP KEARNY WHERE HE WILL ENGAGE IN Y.M.C.A. WORK

Rev. T. F. McCrea who has so ably managed the work of the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. drives in the Glendale and Tropico district, is to leave on Friday for Camp Kearny where he will be the religious work secretary at Y. M. C. A. building No. 4. Mr. McCrea takes with him boundless enthusiasm for his work as well as large experience along such lines. Among his successful undertakings was the work he did while he was for a number of years head of the Red Cross work in China. The many friends he has made in Glendale wish him the greatest success in his new work and feel the utmost confidence that he will "make good" in every sense of the expression. He goes to a splendid field among the finest of America's young men and without doubt will be able to accomplish much in fortifying them in spirit and in body for the great world's work they have before them. Fortunately he will be for the present at least near enough to us that he may return occasionally and tell us at first hand of his experiences and accomplishments. He leaves his family at their home, 800 Campbell street.

A FEW WAR FIGURES

SECRETARY McADOO PUTS WAR COSTS TO JUNE, 1919, AT A TOTAL OF $23,000,000,000

WASHINGTON, December 5—War costs to the end of June, 1919—exclusive of loans to foreign governments—will reach the enormous total of more than $23,000,000,000, according to estimates sent Congress today by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

Ordinary expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918, will amount to $12,316,295,223 of which $11,527,709,023 will be fed directly into the war machine.

Estimated expenses for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, mount upward to $12,701,839,980, out of which $11,605,889,500 will be for prosecution of the war.

These staggering figures go side by side with a warning to the nation that it must awaken to the vast responsibilities of the war, must curtail its pleasures and learn the vital lesson of saving.

"Business as usual" is an impossible theory in war, McAddo declared.

"Everything wasted now is nothing short of criminal, he said. "So far as I've been able to observe, the American people are not sufficiently aroused to the necessity of economy in this really serious time."

The secretary counselled Congress against imposition of additional tax burdens at the present session of Congress unless sale of bonds does not come up to expectations.

He hinted at some form of regulation of new capital expenditures and apparently referring to railroads, added:

It may also become necessary to concert some constructive measures through which essential credits may be provided for those industries and enterprises essential to the efficient and successful conduct of the war.

"The courage and resources of the nation," McAdoo continued, "are so abundant that America's success in the war is beyond question if they are properly organized and intelligently used. The economic and financial condition of the country was never so strong and America's spirit was never more aroused to the importance and necessity of going forward, resolutely and regardless of sacrifices to the accomplishment of the great task to which God has called us.

"Loans actually made to foreign governments up to November 1, 1917, totaled $2,717,200,000 with a total credit agreed upon of $3,131,400,000. America's gold monetary stock on hand November 1, 1917, stood at $3,041,500,000, an increase of $174,500,000 in the past ten months.

"War risk insurance costs are estimated at $435,000,000 while the shipping board requires $901,129 and the Council of National Defense $500,000."

GLENDALE DANCERS AT PANTAGES

Little Merna and Merle Kahler, of 614 Gardena street, who have been trained by Mrs. Pearl Keller, teacher of dramatic art and dancing, during the past two years for the professional stage, are to give a special matinee performance at Pantages in Los Angeles on Thursday afternoon. This very unusual honor has been accorded the children through the personal friendship of Mr. Pantages for Mrs. Keller who has been an intimate friend of the family for a number of years, and who has the promise of a try-out before Mr. Pantages for any of her pupils. In this particular instance the small performers are to be given a professional debut without the usual preliminaries of a private try-out, on the strength of Mrs. Keller's recommendation. They are really wonderful children and Glendale friends take great pride in their accomplishments and their certain success. Their act at the matinee on Thursday will include impersonations and several dances. The costumes would do credit to any professional performance, little Merna appearing in five changes ranging from a silver lace ruffled frock, with hat and parasol to match, trimmed in dresden shades of maline, through a cloth of gold cupid costume, to black lace with silver trimmings in the cake walk and finally to soldier khaki. A large number of Glendale friends will be glad of an opportunity to see these charming little dancers at their first professional appearance.

RED CROSS HOSPITAL SCRAP BOOKS

Some of the Glendale Union High School girls have been doing their especial "bit" along a somewhat unusual line, having worked out very cleverly the original idea of furnishing, through the Red Cross, scrap books for convalescing soldiers in the hospitals. The idea of cheerfulness and humor predominates in these hand-made books, filled with bright pictures and jokes, funny poetry and cartoons and interspersed with written letters and greetings to the boys who will read them so far away and will feel personally remembered by the thoughtfulness of these young workers who are sending them these messages of cheer. The books have artistic hand decorations and hand-painted covers. The Red Cross would like to encourage more girls to take up this pleasant work, which is so certain to be repaid by the gratitude of many a lonesome and suffering soldier boy who has himself given so generously to his country's need. Miss Elizabeth Bullard has charge of the undertaking among the High School girls and can be reached through the day by calling the school. Miss Helen Esterly is also a sub-chairman in connection with these books, being in charge of the poster work on the covers besides the other work she is doing for the Red Cross for the bazaar and other departments. Any help or encouragement these girls may receive will be doubly appreciated both by them and by the boys who will later benefit in cheered spirits.

MORE CHARITY, PLEASE

A certain noted evangelist has recently gotten in bad with the people of Long Beach and Los Angeles by some very ugly sayings against the Red Cross, as reported in the newspapers. While severely condemning the expressions used, I must confess to a slight feeling of sympathy with the good doctor (hold on, dear lady, don't aim that brick at Mr. Cowan for you might hit me; just let me explain). I mean I think I can see his point of view. For years every physician of note in this country and many others has condemned the cigarette, the hand-me-down kind, I mean, as the worst foe, next to liquor drinking, of the boy and the young man. It has been denounced as the cause of thousands of young men going insane or dying a lingering, painful death, and as the cause of more rejections by enlisting officers than any other one thing. The cigarette was called a coffin nail, destructive to the heart action, a bar to employment by shrewd business men, a subject for prohibitive legislation in many states and a foe to right living. This evangelist may have taken part in some of these state or local battles against this evil, in which fight he was urged on by enthusiastic women. Is it any wonder that he viewed with surprise and chagrin, as I may frankly say I have, this campaign for supplying to our soldier boys the very thing our noted physicians have been telling us for years was their worst foe? I know that smoking is one of the soldier's comforts, as chewing was in the Civil War, and I've favored sending cigars, smoking tobacco and papers to the boys, but have condemned the "hand-me-downs" because of their evil repute. But I know that whatever our dear Red Cross ladies have determined to send the soldier boys, their motive was the best, and I condemn any such expressions concerning them as are attributed to the evangelist. Why, if our noble Red Cross ladies would declare their intention of sending a bottle of whisky in each comfort kit I'd say, "God bless you, dear women, you are making an awful mistake but you believe you are doing right." Then I'd labor earnestly and kindly in a Christian spirit to prove to them that they were doing our boys vastly more harm than good. Out of all the sorrow and heart breaks of this cruel war, the devotion, the sincerity and the purity of motive of our noble women and girls shines forth as the scintillating star amid the drifting clouds.

Dear reader maybe I've voiced in this little sketch some of your perplexities (as well as my own) over this apparent inconsistency. If so, I'll not be sorry for this sudden eruption. O. L. K.

PRODUCE MORE GASOLINE

It would be a penny wise, pound foolish policy on the part of federal authorities to interfere with use of passenger automobiles as a so-called war measure. To stop manufacture of automobiles would be to put a wrench in the nation's machinery. There is no reason why either step should be adopted by the government.

Instead, why not produce more gasoline? It is claimed that the fuel supply for ourselves and allies is short, that to conserve gasoline for war purposes "pleasure" cars must be kept in the garage until war ceases and that no more such cars will be permitted from the factories. The gasoline shortage can be overcome by less drastic methods than are proposed from unthinking quarters. This country has not reached its limit in oil production. That we know authoritatively. The oil is in the ground and continued demand for oil and high prices will draw it to the surface.

The president of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, who is chairman of the petroleum committee of the National Council of Defense, has stated officially that at this moment the refinery capacity of the country is equal to the allied demand for petroleum if crude oil could be obtained. Refineries can handle an additional 350,000 barrels of oil per day whenever it is forthcoming. This added amount of oil would supply the deficiency that is claimed for the nation's uses and exports.

If congress takes hold of this matter of oil supply in the right manner, all talk of oil shortage will soon cease. Open the public lands, where oil is known to be, to development under proper rules which will safeguard the interests of the nation and idle refineries will soon be working a treble shift. The leasing bill that has been hanging fire at Washington for five years and which has been debated ad nauseam by different congresses, ought to be passed before the Christmas holidays. Encourage the search for and development of oil fields and add at the same time to the nation's war resources and everybody will feel better and there will be more money in circulation and corporations and citizens will be in position to pay their war taxes.

As for "pleasure" cars, they do not amount to much in the consumption of gasoline. There are mighty few "pleasure" cars around. As for passenger cars, there are many of them and they are required as a part of everyday business. The ordinary passenger car is as much a part of business often as the plain truck. The former is the business getter for the latter.

Without a necessity that knows no law there ought to be no interference by the government with the people's affairs and manner of doing business. The more freedom the more energy and good will from the citizens; the greater the restrictions the bigger the grouch.—Denver News.

POULTRY THE BEST CHANCE

Poultry must be produced next year in places where it has not been produced before, and everywhere that poultry has been produced that production must be increased. It is necessary that people in the country and in the towns answer alike to this call. Farms and backyards must both do their bit, for the doubling of our poultry production next year is an indispensable item in the Nation's food production program—a program which must be carried out if we are to win the war.

The meat supplies available for European use are short. Meat must be supplied if the war is won—by the forces who fight for freedom. The war will be won if we fail in food production—but not won by us. We must understand what will happen if we do not provide the enormous quantities of foodstuffs that the Allies can not produce for themselves.

Are we going to feed our Army on chickens and eggs? Of course not. But by greatly increasing our production of chickens and eggs, and by eating those chickens and eggs ourselves we will, naturally, eat that much less beef and pork. In turn, that beef and pork can be sent to Europe.

The United States Department of Agriculture calls upon the country to double poultry production next year. That can be done if the farms will keep an average of 100 hens instead of an average of 40 hens, as at present, and if every family in town will keep enough hens in the back yard to produce all the eggs used by that family, or two hens to each person.

TROPICO CITY TRUSTEES HOLD SHORT SESSION TUESDAY NIGHT

The meeting of Tropico City Trustees Tuesday evening was brief and uneventful. Present were Trustees Peters, Seal, Henry and Alspach; also present City Attorney Shaw, Health Officer Mabry and Street Superintendent Mabry.

No communications, either written or oral, were offered, and no reports.

City Clerk Van Wie read a copy of the letter he had addressed to the Southern California Edison company relative to its obligation to grant Tropico the same rates allowed by Glendale, and stated he had as yet received no reply.

Gutter Obstruction

Street Superintendent Ripley was asked for a report on the conditions complained of on Tropico avenue in the neighborhood of the Anderson Garage, where water stands after rains. Discussions and explanations followed in which Health Officer Mabry participated, claiming that the root of the trouble was to be found in the higher grade and projection of the intersecting alley beyond the Anderson garage which blocks the gutter flow and caused Mr. Anderson to make the dirt approach to create a further barrier to protect his premises. Trustee Seal objected to lowering the grade of the alley because it would destroy its oiled surface. Clerk Van Wie quoted the City Engineer's recommendation that a 6 or 8-inch pipe be laid through the projecting alleyway to drain off the water. Trustee Henry then moved that the street superintendent be instructed to go down and clear the gutter on Tropico avenue, between San Fernando and the Southern Pacific track, which motion was seconded by Alspach and carried.

Resolution of Appreciation

On motion of Trustee Seal the board adopted a resolution expressing its appreciation of the help given by Los Angeles and local papers in furthering the opening and improvement of Brand boulevard through the city to Los Angeles, and in connection with the Ivanhoe bridge. The city clerk was furnished a list of the papers to which the resolution should be sent.

Demands

The demands which had been approved by the finance committee and ordered paid, were then read by the clerk as follows:

Pacific Tel. & Tel. Co., for extension phone	$ 1.45
W. Edwards, for garbage collection	40.00
Andrew Baker, for street labor	5.00
Water Dept., Title Guar. & Trust Co.	78.80
E. C. Fairfield, fire chief	40.00

The board then adjourned.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Paul Rider was guest of honor and center of interest at a party given by Mrs. P. O. Rider last Friday evening in celebration of his 21st birthday, at the parsonage at 208 E. Acacia.

About 30 guests were entertained. Some of them were boys from Occidental who had been fellow students of Paul's, but the majority were young people of the Presbyterian church in Tropico.

Paul's clever mother is credited with the invention of some very original games with which the boys and girls entertained themselves. All related to the Hoover idea. One, for example, was a "wheatless, meatless sandwich" and consisted of two slips of white paper, one bearing a question the other the answer to the question. There were story telling and glee club songs by the college boys, and the good time that young people who know each other well usually have when together.

Paul returned to San Pedro Saturday morning.

VETERANS' NIGHT

Sons of Veterans will observe "Veterans' Night" next Monday evening at G. A. R. hall with a very nice program and the sort of refreshments that will appeal to old soldiers, though the coffee will not be made in a battered pot over a fire of sticks. It is also probable that, owing to the high cost of living, there will be no beans on the menu of the sort served on the battle fronts in the sixties. The guests will be called upon for speeches and songs, and Joe Griffin, the Good Man Friday of Tropico program makers, is arranging something good in the way of entertainment.

Personals

Martain Quai, one of Tropico's soldier boys who went to American Lake, has been transferred to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Stofft, of 934 North Pacific avenue, spent Saturday evening and Sunday with friends in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howe entertained for dinner on Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morrow and children, of Thermal, Cal.

La Halla Temple Pythian Sisters are to meet Friday night to decide what use to make of the surplus funds in their treasury.

Mrs. Charles W. Kirk, of Santa Barbara, came to Glendale Tuesday evening and is the guest today of her mother, Mrs. John Hyde Braly, 205 N. Brand boulevard.

Peter Ottis has moved from 1550 W. Seventh, to 1713 Vine street, having traded for that place and the house and lot back of it on Seventh. He expects to engage in the truck delivery business.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Russell, who have rented their home at 315 South Central avenue, furnished for the winter have moved to 1114½ Broadway where they have an apartment for the present.

Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith entertained for Thanksgiving dinner, at their home, 933 Dorothy drive, Dr. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Parker and small son, Francis.

Mrs. J. S. Steele, of Pomona, arrived on Friday to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lee at their home, 103 Belmont. Mrs. Steele is a cousin of Mr. Lee. She likes Glendale very much and plans quite an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Morrow, of 430 Franklin Court, entertained for Thanksgiving and the week end their son, Mr. Clyde Morrow with his family. Mr. and Mrs. Morrow motored down from their ranch in Coachella Valley and returned on Monday after a very enjoyable visit in Glendale.

Mr. William J. Pierce, owner of the beautiful place at the corner of Glendale and Park avenues who has been ill for some time and under the care of physicians at Thornycroft Hospital, was brought back to his home recently. He is still so ill as to require the attendance of two nurses.

Mrs. N. E. Brode and her mother, Mrs. Jewell, who have been living at 416 Glendale avenue, have recently leased the dwelling known as the "Winebrenner House" on Park avenue, with an option to buy. Mrs. Jewell's two brothers, Messrs. Hutchinson, are spending the winter with the ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Parker, of Omaha, Nebraska, who are making their home for the winter at 1418 Ivy street, are entertaining as their guest Mrs. Parker's brother, Mr. Milton Nelson, of Florence, Nebraska, who arrived on Tuesday from Wyoming, where he has been occupied with surveying.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith Fellows, of Byers, Colo., who were residents of Glendale for a number of years, and who left here about three years ago, arrived on Tuesday morning and will be the house guests until about December 15 of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fellows at their home, 212 South Howard street.

Mrs. L. F. Kirri, of 1318 Hawthorne street, entertained the Glendale Carpenters' Union, of which Mr. Kirri is a member, after their regular meeting last week with a delicious little supper at her home. About 18 were present and did justice to the many good things besides having a fine time together in a social way.

The Glendale Garden Society will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday evening at the home of its president, 1222 Milford, at 7:30 o'clock. This meeting was to have been held at the Chamber of Commerce, but, owing to the fact that those rooms have been requisitioned by the Government, it has been found impossible to meet there.

Mrs. L. M. Roberts and little son, David, of Hermosa Beach, were guests for Thanksgiving and the week end of Miss Laura Roberts, of the Glendale library, whose home is at 405 South Maryland. For dinner on Thanksgiving day Mr. and Mrs. Leroy McMillan, of Los Angeles, were also guests, Mrs. McMillan being Miss Roberts' sister, and Mr. Louis Roberts, one of the Company 9 boys also joined the party.

The returns from the Thanksgiving day foot ball game at the High School, while not finally closed up, show that over $150 will be cleared. This sum will be devoted to the Athletic fund which is used for the current expenses of athletics at the school. Together with the proceeds of the one other game held on the home grounds it will prove sufficient almost entirely to cover all the outlay for athletics at the High School during the fall season.

Miss E. A. Bingham, formerly of 404 Brand boulevard, has moved to 1214 West Broadway.

Mrs. R. G. Payne has rented her house at 325 South Central street, furnished for the winter and will make her home at 1423 West Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hyde Braly, 205 N. Brand boulevard, entertained Thanksgiving day at an elaborate family dinner party including all the children and grandchildren. Twenty-four gathered around the heavily laden board.

Singing Evangelist W. Earle Smith and wife were the special guests to dinner at the home of pastor Vernon H. Cowsert, 1450 Pioneer drive, this afternoon to meet Mr. Cowsert's sister, Mrs. H. H. Wynn, who just came last night from her home in Yazoo City, Mississippi. Mrs. Wynn will remain for an indefinite time at the pastorium.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson, of 325 South Louise, entertained with a good, old fashioned Thanksgiving feast at their home last Thursday. Those present besides the host and hostess and their son, Mr. Verne Wilson, were: Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lusby and daughter, Miss Margaret Lusby, Dr. R. W. Lusby, Mrs. J. B. Emery, and Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Lusby and son, Donald.

Mrs. Annie Rhea-Wilson, from Tabriz, Persia, tonight at 7:30 at the Presbyterian church. A rare opportunity to hear a wonderful message. Mrs. Wilson is widow of the late Rev. S. G. Wilson D. D., who was principal of the boy's school at Tabriz, and has been 31 years among the Syrians, Armenians and in Persia. Her story is thrilling and of especial interest to the young people.

The Red Cross War Relief and Recreation committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club will hold its regular session on Thursday from 10 until 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Ard-Eevin. Members having finished garments please report with them at this time. Those unable to attend are requested to leave finished garments with the worker's name attached, at the Red Cross headquarters, 318 South Brand boulevard.

KINNAN IS RIGHT

Mr. Editor:

Mr. Kinnan is absolutely correct about renaming and renumbering Greater Glendale streets. The renumbering should have been done some time ago, even without the welcome addition of Tropico. Possibly the present system was all right when Glendale was a village. At present to locate a number is about as easy as solving a Chinese puzzle. I endorse all of Mr. Kinnan's ideas. His division lines are ideal. The job should be done at once.

DAUGHTERS OF THE REVOLUTION

The General Richard Gridley chapter, D. A. R., will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of the Regent, Mrs. Mary H. Gridley Braly, 205 N. Brand boulevard. All members and those anticipating becoming members of the chapter are invited. There will be the usual pleasant social time with refreshments following the program which will be featured by an address by Mrs. C. C. Cottle, vice regent of the Daughters of the Revolution for the state of California.

Did General Washington ever receive a title from the French government? Not a title of nobility, but near the close of the Revolutionary war he was commissioned lieutenant general of the French army and vice admiral of France in order that he might be commander-in-chief of the united forces of France and the United States, which were then co-operating.

Four-year-old Walter had permission from his mother to make a short call on new neighbors. This is what he reported on his return home: "Mamma, they have one child and a baby that isn't a child yet."

GOVERNMENT COOKING SCHOOL

Mrs. Hazzard, the U. S. demonstrator who is giving weekly talks on food conservation at the city hall illustrated with practical demonstrations of the free government recipes, spoke to an interested audience of Glendale ladies on Tuesday morning and baked some very appetizing breads and puddings. Two Christmas puddings, made largely with graham flour, the materials for which she personally had donated, she sold for the benefit of the Red Cross. She also demonstrated a Christmas bread, squash biscuits, graham biscuits and bran gems. The materials for these cooked foods demonstrated are furnished by the Glendale unit of the Council of Defense, while Mrs. Hazzard's expenses are otherwise carried by the Government. Her recipes are practical and good and Glendale housewives should take advantage of this exceptional opportunity to receive them, together with the excellent instruction to be had at first hand. Several of the recipes are given below, and others will appear from time to time in the Conservation Corner to which all Glendale ladies are requested to contribute. Recipes and suggestions for helpful conservation will be gladly received. Mrs. Hazzard warns against too much roughage in the zealous use of the new war foods and against extremes of all kinds, laying stress on a variety of diet. She especially advocates the free use at all times of green vegetables. She cautions, too, in baking the liberty breads to be sure to have them well done. Her standby authority in her work is "10001 Tests," by Dr. Harvey Wiley, a book which the Glendale library promises soon to have.

CHRISTMAS SALE

The Christmas sale to be held at the Congregational church on Thursday and Friday afternoons and evenings is to have a number of interesting features. There will be many booths for the sale of everything from canned fruit to candy, including lovely hand made articles of a wide variety which will make admirable Christmas presents. There will be hand woven rugs and lacey caps, crocheted yokes and warm, downy comforts, with numberless beribboned and beruffled dainty things in between. There will be free programs on both afternoons and evenings. Thursday evening there will be especially interesting musical tableaux, displaying many different costumes and including a flag tableau by the children well worth seeing. The miniature grocery store at which free samples of the same are given with each article purchased will attract much attention as will many other features too numerous to mention.

ATTEMPT TO INJURE RED CROSS

The effort to discredit the Red Cross on the part of German propagandists, of which warnings have been sent out by officials, have been felt in Tropico, where the stock story that sweaters are being made by the local Red Cross Auxiliary and sold to the soldier boys, is being circulated.

There is absolutely no truth in the statement and no foundation for any suspicion of this character. The sweaters which have been made by members of the Auxiliary for Red Cross needs have either been manufactured from yarn secured from the Los Angeles chapter and then turned in to that organization for distribution, or have been made from yarn purchased by private subscription, and the garments have been bestowed directly upon Tropico boys who have been sent to training camps. Parents and friends have sometimes furnished these outfits complete and either manufactured them personally or employed knitters to do it. Mrs. Pearl Keller, for example, sent a complete set consisting of sweater, muffler, socks, wristlets, etc., to a friend on the French front. She purchased the yarn herself and employed an expert knitter to make the articles.

It would not seem possible that anyone in this district could be deceived by these stories which have constantly been denied, but lest some one unfamiliar with the work may be misled, this emphatic denial is made by the local Red Cross officials in Tropico.

HONOR ROLL

Besides a flag to testify to Tropico's patriotism, the Tropico City Hall is adorned with a new testimonial which, while it fills the citizen with pride, also brings a little chokey sensation in the throat. It is the honor roll of Tropico boys who have been summoned to service under the Stars and Stripes, and there are 42 names on the list. The roll is the work of that versatile man, Joe Griffin, who seems to be equal to anything in the artistic line. The caption above the names reads: "That the world may be made safe for democracy.—Wilson."

BABY BOOTH

At the Red Cross bazaar to be held on December 14 there is to be a booth for the babies which should prove particularly popular. While articles are to be offered for all babies from the youngest infants to those three years or more of age, a special effort is to be made for a full equipment for the neglected "short dresses" baby that is, as every mother knows, the hardest of all to provide for. At the time when the mother is too busy to sew and the baby must be taken out of long dresses and put into short, gifts of little rompers or ready to wear petticoats or dresses are joyfully received. Many such things may be bought at the bazaar and the booth is certain to be so well patronized that the Red Cross is anxious for as many contributions for it as possible. Anyone able to contribute any article of infants' wear, large or small, is requested to phone Glendale 611W or to take the donations to Red Cross headquarters, 318 S. Brand boulevard.

LOS ANGELES AND MONTEREY BISHOP CONSECRATED

SAN FRANCISCO, December 5.—Right Rev. John J. Cantwell, chancellor of the arch-diocese of San Francisco, was consecrated today as bishop of the Catholic diocese of Los Angeles and Monterey. The ceremony took place at St. Mary's Cathedral at a solemn service over which Archbishop Edward J. Hanna presided.

This is the first consecration that has been held in San Francisco since 1902. Many of the most prominent Catholic prelates in the west were present including Archbishops Glennon, of St. Louis; Christia, of Portland, Ore., and Pitival, of New Mexico, and Bishops Tihen, of Denver; Grace, of Sacramento; O'Dea of Seattle, and Glass of Salt Lake.

HERE'S THE CREED OF UNCLE SAMMY'S BOYS

This is the creed of the American soldier, a creed to which every loyal American can subscribe:

"I believe in My America as the land of individual liberty, of justice and of common opportunity; the land that gave me home and friends and work.

"I believe that the pledged word of a nation is sacred, and the cornerstone of civilization; that every government must hold its treaties sacred in order that the world be safe for democracy.

"I believe that national honor is as real as personal honor and that neither can long exist without the other; that there cannot be neutrality between right and wrong; that America fights for her national honor, her national rights and her national existence as a free democracy.

"I believe in fighting for right and home and country, for wife and children and friends, not for revenge or conquest, but for justice and permanent peace.

"I believe in the Stars and Stripes as the symbol of my hopes; that it is the flag of freedom, of democracy and brotherhood.

"To serve and to save America and those ideals for which she stands, and to keep the Stars and Stripes on high with honor, I pledge my hand, my heart and my life."

WAR SONG "OVER THERE" NETS AUTHOR $161 A WORD

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Try this on your piano. When you sing "Over There, Over There" the first four words of the chorus of that war song, it represents $644 to George M. Cohan.

Kipling, Colonel Roosevelt and other "space writers" were distanced by Cohan with "Over There." According to Broadway Cohan sold the song for $25,000, or at a rate of $161 a word.

NEW PRODUCE REGULATIONS

Eliminating unjustifiable sales from one wholesaler to another, stopping speculation in "futures," and having butter, cheese, eggs and poultry handled in the most direct route from producer to consumer, are the chief objects at which the new produce rules of the Food Administration's licensing system are aimed.

One of the fundemental purposes of these rules and of the entire system of licensing is to get the largest possible share of the consumer's dollar to the producer.

The licensing system which went into effect November 1 does not apply directly to farmers or farmers' organizations and is directed chiefly at wasteful and unfair practices in the handling of food products between the producer and the consumer. But with such practices stopped or diminished, the producer is expected to benefit in several indirect ways. One is a greater public demand as the result of reasonable prices to the consumer made possible by a less expensive distributing system. Another benefit will be the confidence of the producer himself in a distributing system under government supervision.

DISCRIMINATING FLIES

A Washington man went for his vacation to a fly-haunted hotel in Connecticut. There was a hammock in the grove behind the hotel and one afternoon he climbed into it with pipe and book. But the flies tormented him unmercifully, so he climbed out again in disgust.

"Look here, landlord," he complained, as he entered the office, "what's the good of a hammock in such a fly-ridden spot as that grove?"

"Oh," said the landlord, "you didn't use the hammock during hammock hours."

"What are hammock hours?" asked the guest.

"Twelve to two sir; you'll find no flies in the grove then, sir."

"And why not?" demanded the puzzled guest.

"Because," said the landlord, "from twelve to two is dinner, and they're all in the dining room then."

rights and immediate induction of such registrant into military service. * * Failure to receive notice or Questionnaire will not excuse the registrant from performing any duty within the time limit, nor shall it be in itself ground for extension of time."

Relative to revocation of exemption and discharge, announcement is made: "All exemptions and discharges made prior to the date of these Rules and Regulations, and all certificates in evidence thereof, are hereby revoked, and all such certificates heretofore issued shall have no further validity."

"Mention any previous military experience you have had, organization, rank, length of service.

"Underline the branch of the Army in which you prefer to serve; Grade reached in school, years in high school, years in college; Name of college and subjects of specialization; Years in technical school; Name of school and course pursued; Underline the languages you speak well, English, French, German; State any other language you speak."

Then follows a long list of occupations with a space like that on a ballot in which to make a cross. Following this are more questions such as: "Have you ever been convicted of a crime? If yes, state the name of the crime, date of conviction, name of court?"

Series II covers physical fitness and registrants are instructed to "draw a line under any of the words below that describes any ailment or physical deficiency you may have." The "following words" are: "Blind, deaf, dumb, loss of limb, epileptic, paralytic, insane, withered or deformed limb." They are also told to "state in detail the names and addresses of the physicians and the institutions in which you are being treated or have been treated within the last twelve months, with the dates of the treatments."

Series III is made up of questions to be answered by Legislative, executive and judicial officers relative to their offices.

Series IV and V are somewhat similar and concern Ministers of religion and divinity students.

Questions in Series VI relate to service in the military or naval service of the United States.

Series VII has to do with "Citizenship" and concerns aliens.

Series VIII covers "Officials, Federal Employers, Pilots and Mariners."

Series IX inquires into religious convictions against war; Series X contains questions in regard to "dependents"; Series XI in regard to "Industrial Occupation," Series XII, "Agricultural Occupation." In connection with all the series are forms for supporting affidavits.

SPECIAL MUSIC TONIGHT

The large audience at the Baptist church last night were greatly delighted by the singing of the South Park Male Quartette which expects to be back again tomorrow night, and possibly tonight. Should they fail to be present tonight, Evangelist Smith has a surprise in store in any event, in a musical way. Mrs. Neighbors sang again a very effective solo at the close of Mr. Smith's sermon and Prof. Lowinsky also favored the audience with one of his delightful violin solos.

Mr. Smith spoke on the subject of "Excuses," and showed that the gospel was neither a funeral or a famine, but a genuine "feast" in every sense of the term. He showed the supreme folly manifested by the men in the parable who declined the kind invitation to the great supper, and convinced his hearers that the average excuse of the average unbeliever was even more absurd. In discussing the modern variety of excuse makers he told several humorous incidents and pressed home with great force the splendid inducements to accept the Lord's invitation to the great wedding feast to be provided by the bridegroom for his bride, the church.

A large number of the Christian people present expressed a renewal of their determination to do specific personal work during today. It is confidently expected there will be a well-filled house to greet the evangelist tonight.

MUST HAVE MORE MEAT

Because of the war the meat reserves of the world are diminished. The herds of live stock in Europe have been reduced by slaughter made necessary in order to feed the armies. Our own meat production in the years just preceding the war was barely sufficient for our own uses. And yet we are now called upon not only to feed ourselves, but to feed Europe to a large extent. And we must do it if we win the war.

Where will we get the meat? You can do your part, on your farm and in your back yard by producing more poultry—increasing the supply of eggs and chickens, geese and ducks. Our total number of beef animals can not be increased with sufficient quickness. Several years are required to build up cattle herds. Hogs can be increased considerably in a year. They can be increased faster than any other meat animal. But poultry can be doubled in a year. It offers the fastest and cheapest possible source of meat increase. That is why it is so important that everyone help in poultry production next year.

The more poultry and eggs we produce the more poultry and eggs we will eat. The more of that food we eat the less beef and pork we will need or want—leaving that much more to go to Europe. Thus we do indirectly the thing we can't do directly. By poultry production we get quickly more meat to win the war, although we can not increase in that time the number of our meat animals.

Get some good hens. You will help win the war. You will reduce your own cost of living. You will turn waste into food. Get some good hens.

LIGHT THE GREAT CIVILIZER

The men who are converting our waterpowers into electric light are the missionaries of civilization and progress—the light-bringers who are elevating the moral standards and health of humanity.

The effect of a well-lighted city upon individuals and the community conscience, the deterrent of crime and degeneracy, the saving of police power, minimizing the evil that breeds in the dark, is all good.

Next to music, the greatest civilizer in the world is light.

Men who love music and children, it is said, can not be of evil nature. The same may be said of those who love the light. It exalts almost as much as music. It cleanses, it purifies, it is the enemy of bad dreams and the grouch.

People with devils in them should take the light cure. It is no less than marvelous how a light bath will rinse the mind of demons.

Intelligence is most akin to light. It has always been the poetic figure most in use in describing mental evolution.

STOP MANUFACTURE OF NON-ESSENTIALS

Some expressions of regret have been heard that certain articles —especially those that may be designated in the class of novelties— are not obtainable this season as heretofore. The reason for this is that the factories that were devoting their time and labors to the manufacture of non-essentials, have been converted into the manufacture of articles that will be of use, either to those people at home or to the boys at the front. Along with the food conservation has come the conservation of energy and useless wasting of time on non-essentials.

Instead of bemoaning the fact that certain little articles you may have "wanted"—but really did not need—are not to be had, just look about for something to do for some one else. There is plenty of work that may be done for others. Maybe you can not see any immediate reward from these labors, but your work will not be unrewarded. You may knit a sock or a muffler and yet not know just who will receive it, but you can rest assured that it will be of value to some one. And there are thousands of other little things that one can do, if he only will, for some one else.—Gardena Citizen.

SHIRK DUTY WHEN HUNGRY

Hungry jurymen appealed to the judge in a London court. They had been kept sitting during the luncheon hour, and had failed to agree on a verdict. One of them suggested to Judge Rentoul that possibly a little refreshment might help them. "Hungry men," he added, "are not disposed to listen to arguments." The judge said refreshments should be supplied if there was any possibility of the jury coming to a verdict, but the foreman replied that there appeared to be no chance of their agreeing. "In my native country," said Judge Rentoul, "a juryman once took in a quantity of beef and a small bottle of beer and said to his fellow jurors, 'I am for an acquittal,' without waiting for their verdict. And the others had to give in from the sheer necessities of the case."

KAISER'S WAR LIBRARY

It is reported that the kaiser is devoting considerable time to the creation of his own war library, and already this remarkable collection numbers 10,000 volumes.

The war lord is well known as a vain man and his collection of photographs runs into thousands. While the books come from every country, only German photographs are included, and those of the kaiser himself are numerous.

The war collection of the Royal Library of Berlin now numbers 50,000 volumes, and they are bound in special covers of gray, stamped with the Prussian eagle.

SIX AND A HALF BILLION POUNDS OF MEAT FOOD

If poultry production is doubled next year, as is readily possible with this city and country co-operation, we will have 6,500,000,000 pounds of meat food, in the form of poultry and eggs. This will release almost that many pounds of other meats—pork and beef—for our Armies in Europe, and for the armies and civilian populations of the Allies.

If we do not produce this amount of poultry we may find ourselves short of meat food to just that extent.

It is a patriotic duty of the utmost importance that every farmer and every person in town do his part in producing this increase of poultry, which will help to win the war. It is also a profitable proposition for the average individual. Both town and farm families will produce, at its lowest cost, meat food for their own use, and, by putting up eggs for winter use will further reduce living expenses.

The poultry will be handled as a by-product of the farm and back yard; each flock being large enough in numbers to utilize the scraps and waste from the kitchen and the "pick-ups" around the place, supplemented by some feed. But no flock should be out of proportion to the ground space and kitchen wastage—not so large that feed will become, relatively, too costly an item. The idea is not only to increase our poultry production, but to do it economically; to do it at very little cost, by turning the waste of kitchens and back yards all over the United States into chickens and eggs. Fowls are the only medium through which a good deal of this waste can be transformed into a valuable food product.
